Mt. Diablo High School

Concord, California

The phases of school life are as varied as the magazines on a newsstand. The staff of the DIABLO 1962 would like to display the favorite magazines of the campus.

MDUDEA NOTES appeals to the mature educator in his native habitat. It contains the credit lines of the staff and administration.

STUDENT LIFE pictures the various activities on campus and those who make news and those who report it. Here is revealed the student government in action, and the many organizations on campus for those of varied interests.

LIVELY ARTS is for those "who trod the boards" bringing dramatic entertainment to the student body and those who find pleasure in learning to know music by performing and listening.

RALLY is the school spirit magazine. Here are pictured the rally members in their work after school, spilling paint and falling off ladders as they made signs and decorations, while the song and yell leaders practiced and practiced new songs and yells on the quad.

DIABLO SPORTS ILLUSTRATED is filled with exciting pictures of the many games and sports activities in which Diablo has participated. It is one of Diablo students' favorite magazines, for it brings back the many exciting moments of the games.

LOOK AT magazine is composed of two sections. One for "the gals" which features activities specifically for girls, and the other for "the guys" which naturally features activities for boys.

WE'RE MAD is the natural name for the senior magazine. There is no need for any humorous satire in this publication, however, because the antics of the senior members are far more entertaining than any satire.

PRINTERS INK is the yearbook magazine. It is a pictorial account of the writing of the DIABLO '62. It shows the work of the Staff as they industriously sought out ads and frantically rushed to meet deadlines.

DOW-JONES REPORT contains the by-lines of the supporters of the DIABLO '62—the merchants and professional people of our community.

Here, just off the press, are displayed the popular magazines which may be purchased at the DIABLO 1962 newsstand.

A period of life will close for each senior at graduation time. School will be finished and friends will part to go on to various fields of work and education.

You as members of this graduating class have been part of a changing picture in high school education. During your four years of high school there have been changes in the curriculum, in methods of teaching, in teaching aids used, as well as in the length of the school day. Teachers also have in many instances returned to school for further preparation and training. The subject content of English, mathematics, history, science and language has been modified and revised. Larger class lecture groups, teaching teams and lay readers have appeared. The language laboratory, reading laboratory and open-closed-circuit TV are aids to the teachers in their presentations. These developments are unfolding chapters in the unending search to produce the well-educated person.

It is, however, not enough to have better trained teachers, a stronger curriculum, better teaching aids, and a longer school day. To become a thoroughly educated person one must possess the additional ingredient found only in himself—desire. Teacher, machine or parent cannot be substituted for desire. A combination of subject content, teaching method and teaching aid, plus the desire to learn provides the richest condition for learning.

The future will hold many changes. To be part of the future, one must have the desire to contribute the energy which makes the difference between half learning and learning, the difference betwen half success and success.

It is hoped that your experiences revolving around your books, teachers, activities and social life at Diablo will serve as an inspiration and guide which will make it possible for you to fulfill all your dreams and ambitions.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Messages

Congratulations to the Class of 1962!

I, as your superintendent, feel a special kinship with the members of this graduating class, since we started out together in the newly established Mt. Diablo Unified School District in the fall of 1949, you as kindergartners, I as the newly appointed superintendent of schools.

During the last thirteen years we have shared together many trying experiences as our community has mushroomed in size, resulting in half-day sessions for many in the primary grades, and making it necessary for some to attend several different schools as you progressed through the elementary and intermediate grades.

Now you are completing your education in a unified school district, which, like you, has grown in stature, conquered difficulties, and adjusted well to the problems inherent in changing from a small, rural community to a large, urban one.

You are now leaving our school system to take your place in the adult world. Some of you will continue on to some form of higher education, some will go to work, others will enter military service, and still others will assume the duties of homemakers. In each case, we hope that the experiences which you have had at Mt. Diablo High School will have been of value in helping you to become good citizens and to be successful in your chosen vocations.

Chief of Police Ron Orin auctioned off his tie at the luncheon at the Concord Inn which netted $3,028 for Diablo's Band.

DEDICATION

When a town can raise $3,025 in twenty-five minutes to help send a school band to play at the World's Fair, CENTURY 21, it is time the students of that school paid homage to its city.

It is, therefore, with gratitude and pride that we dedicate this DIABLO '62 to our home town, and its people with the big hearts and the long pockets.

Also spotted on this page is Mt. Diablo Band Director William Marracino, who whispered the word which started the Band Fund rolling.

Foreword

This is another Diablo first.

To publish a yearbook in a modified magazine format, and to put it into the best possible reading form at the same time was just an idea a year ago. But today it is an idea materialized; a combination of something old and something new.

Since it is different, it will cause controversy almost inevitably.

In order to give you, the student body, a more interesting book in brighter word form and pictures, we have tried new things.

There will be objections to what we have done; we expect that. Being human, we have made mistakes, but we have done our best, and we are proud of what we have done.

HI STEPPERS

Hi Steppers was originated in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berglund (Burgie's Daddy-O). This well-known dance group was formed to create social entertainment for our High School set. Aside from providing the teen-agers with a place to dance, it also contributes to the Senior Class, the annual, and our newspaper. In the past the group has contributed to worth-while projects such as Cerebral Palsy.

Dances are usually held once a month. Money goes for expenses, such as new records, refreshments, chaperones and donations.

This year's officers are as follows:

President . . . . . Sue Root

Vice President . . . . . Dwain Adams

Secretary . . . . . Gail Lewis

The Administration Building, erected early in the century, comes down this year, so this is the last curtain call of the old ediface. The original architect's design called for six rooms only; then later came the library wing, and the auditorium. To replace this building, two new ones will be constructed. These will be called the Administration Building and the Multipurpose Building. Both buildings will take up the space now occupied by the present Administration Building, Auditorium and Art Building. Other parts of the campus will also receive a face lifting.

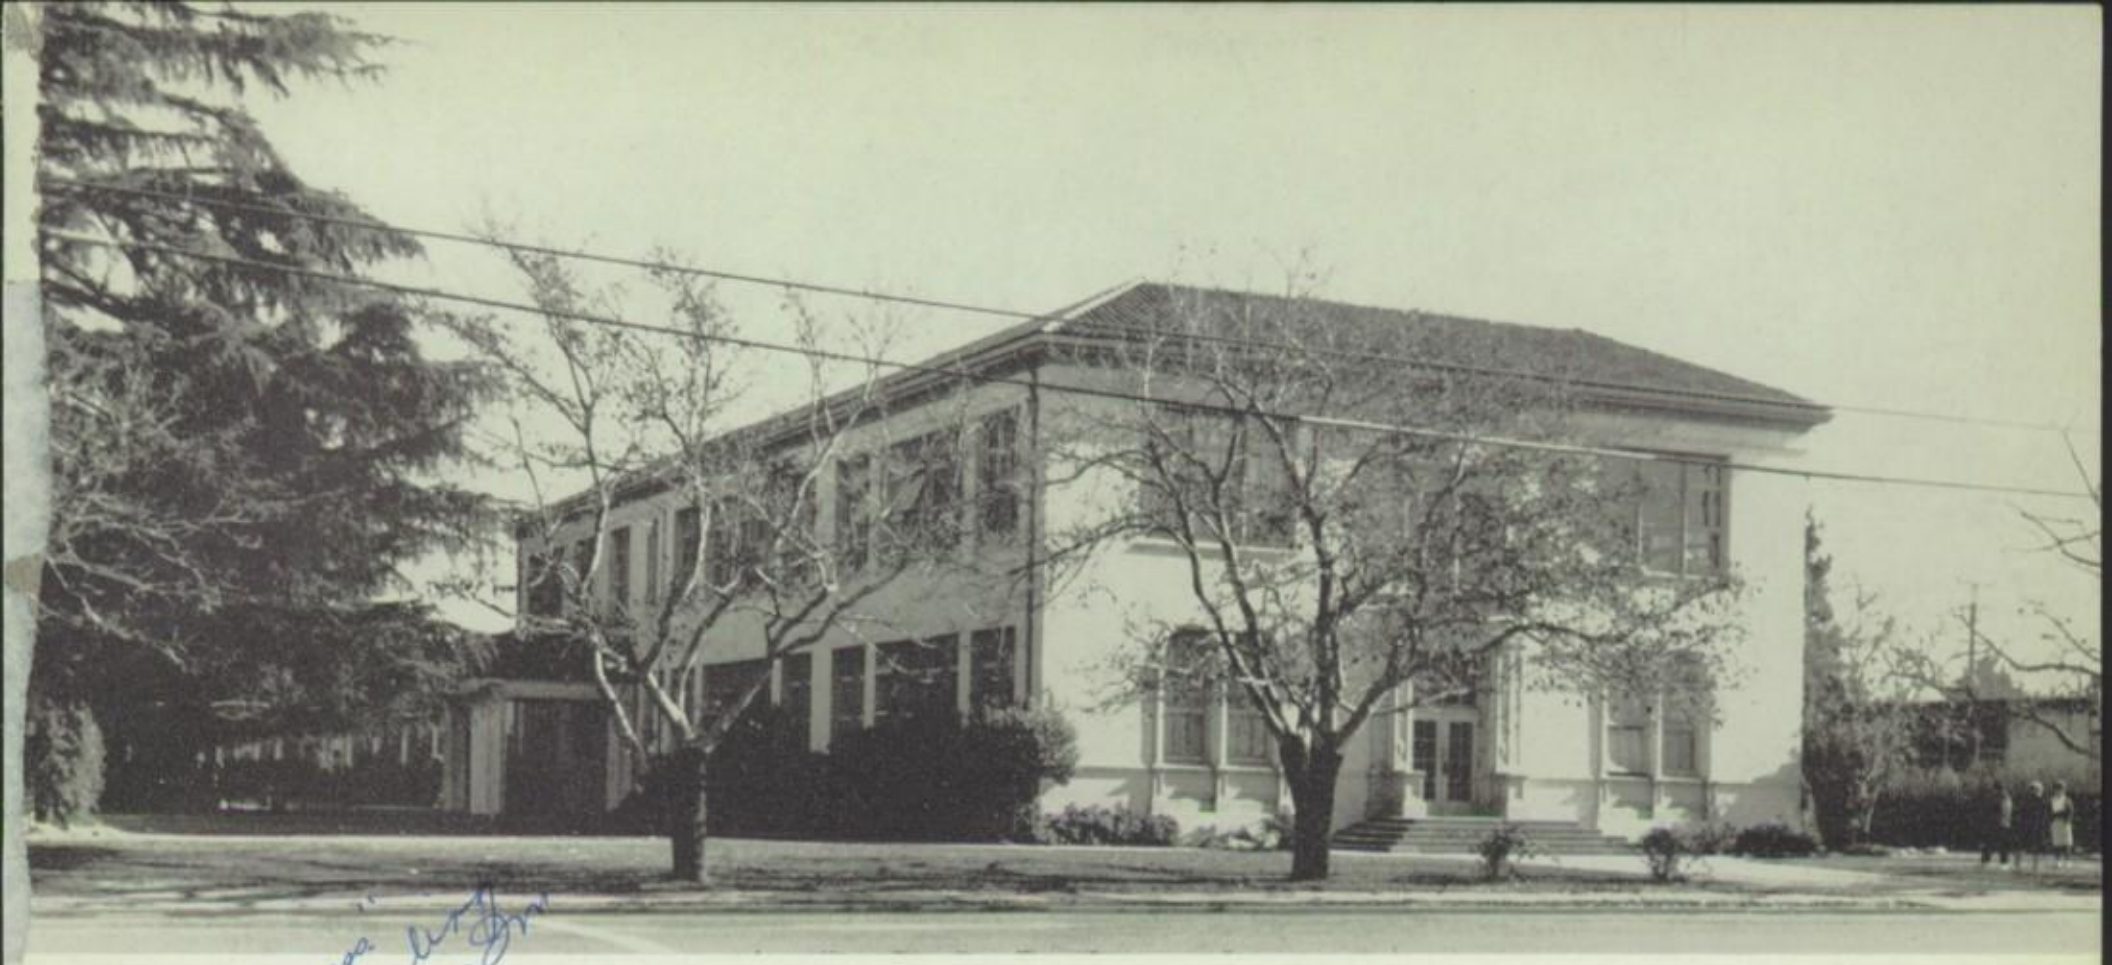
Mt. Diablo's culinary angels are: FRONT ROW, left to right: Mrs. Helen Luenser, Mrs. Margaret Trette, Mrs. Bobbie Dagneau, Mrs. Florence Olander, manager; and Mrs. Wanda Nicholson. BACK ROW: Mrs. Barbara Worth, Mrs. Hazel King, Mrs. Jesse Smith, Mrs. Alma Fredrick, baker; Mrs. Hazel De Frates and Mrs. Evelyn Cook.

Sounds have always issued from this building. First it was the gym, built in 1919; then it became solely a Music Building in 1950, after all athletic gear, and personnel moved across the street to the new gym.



Despite the trial-and-error procedures of many science students, the Science Building has remained in one piece since its construction in 1924.

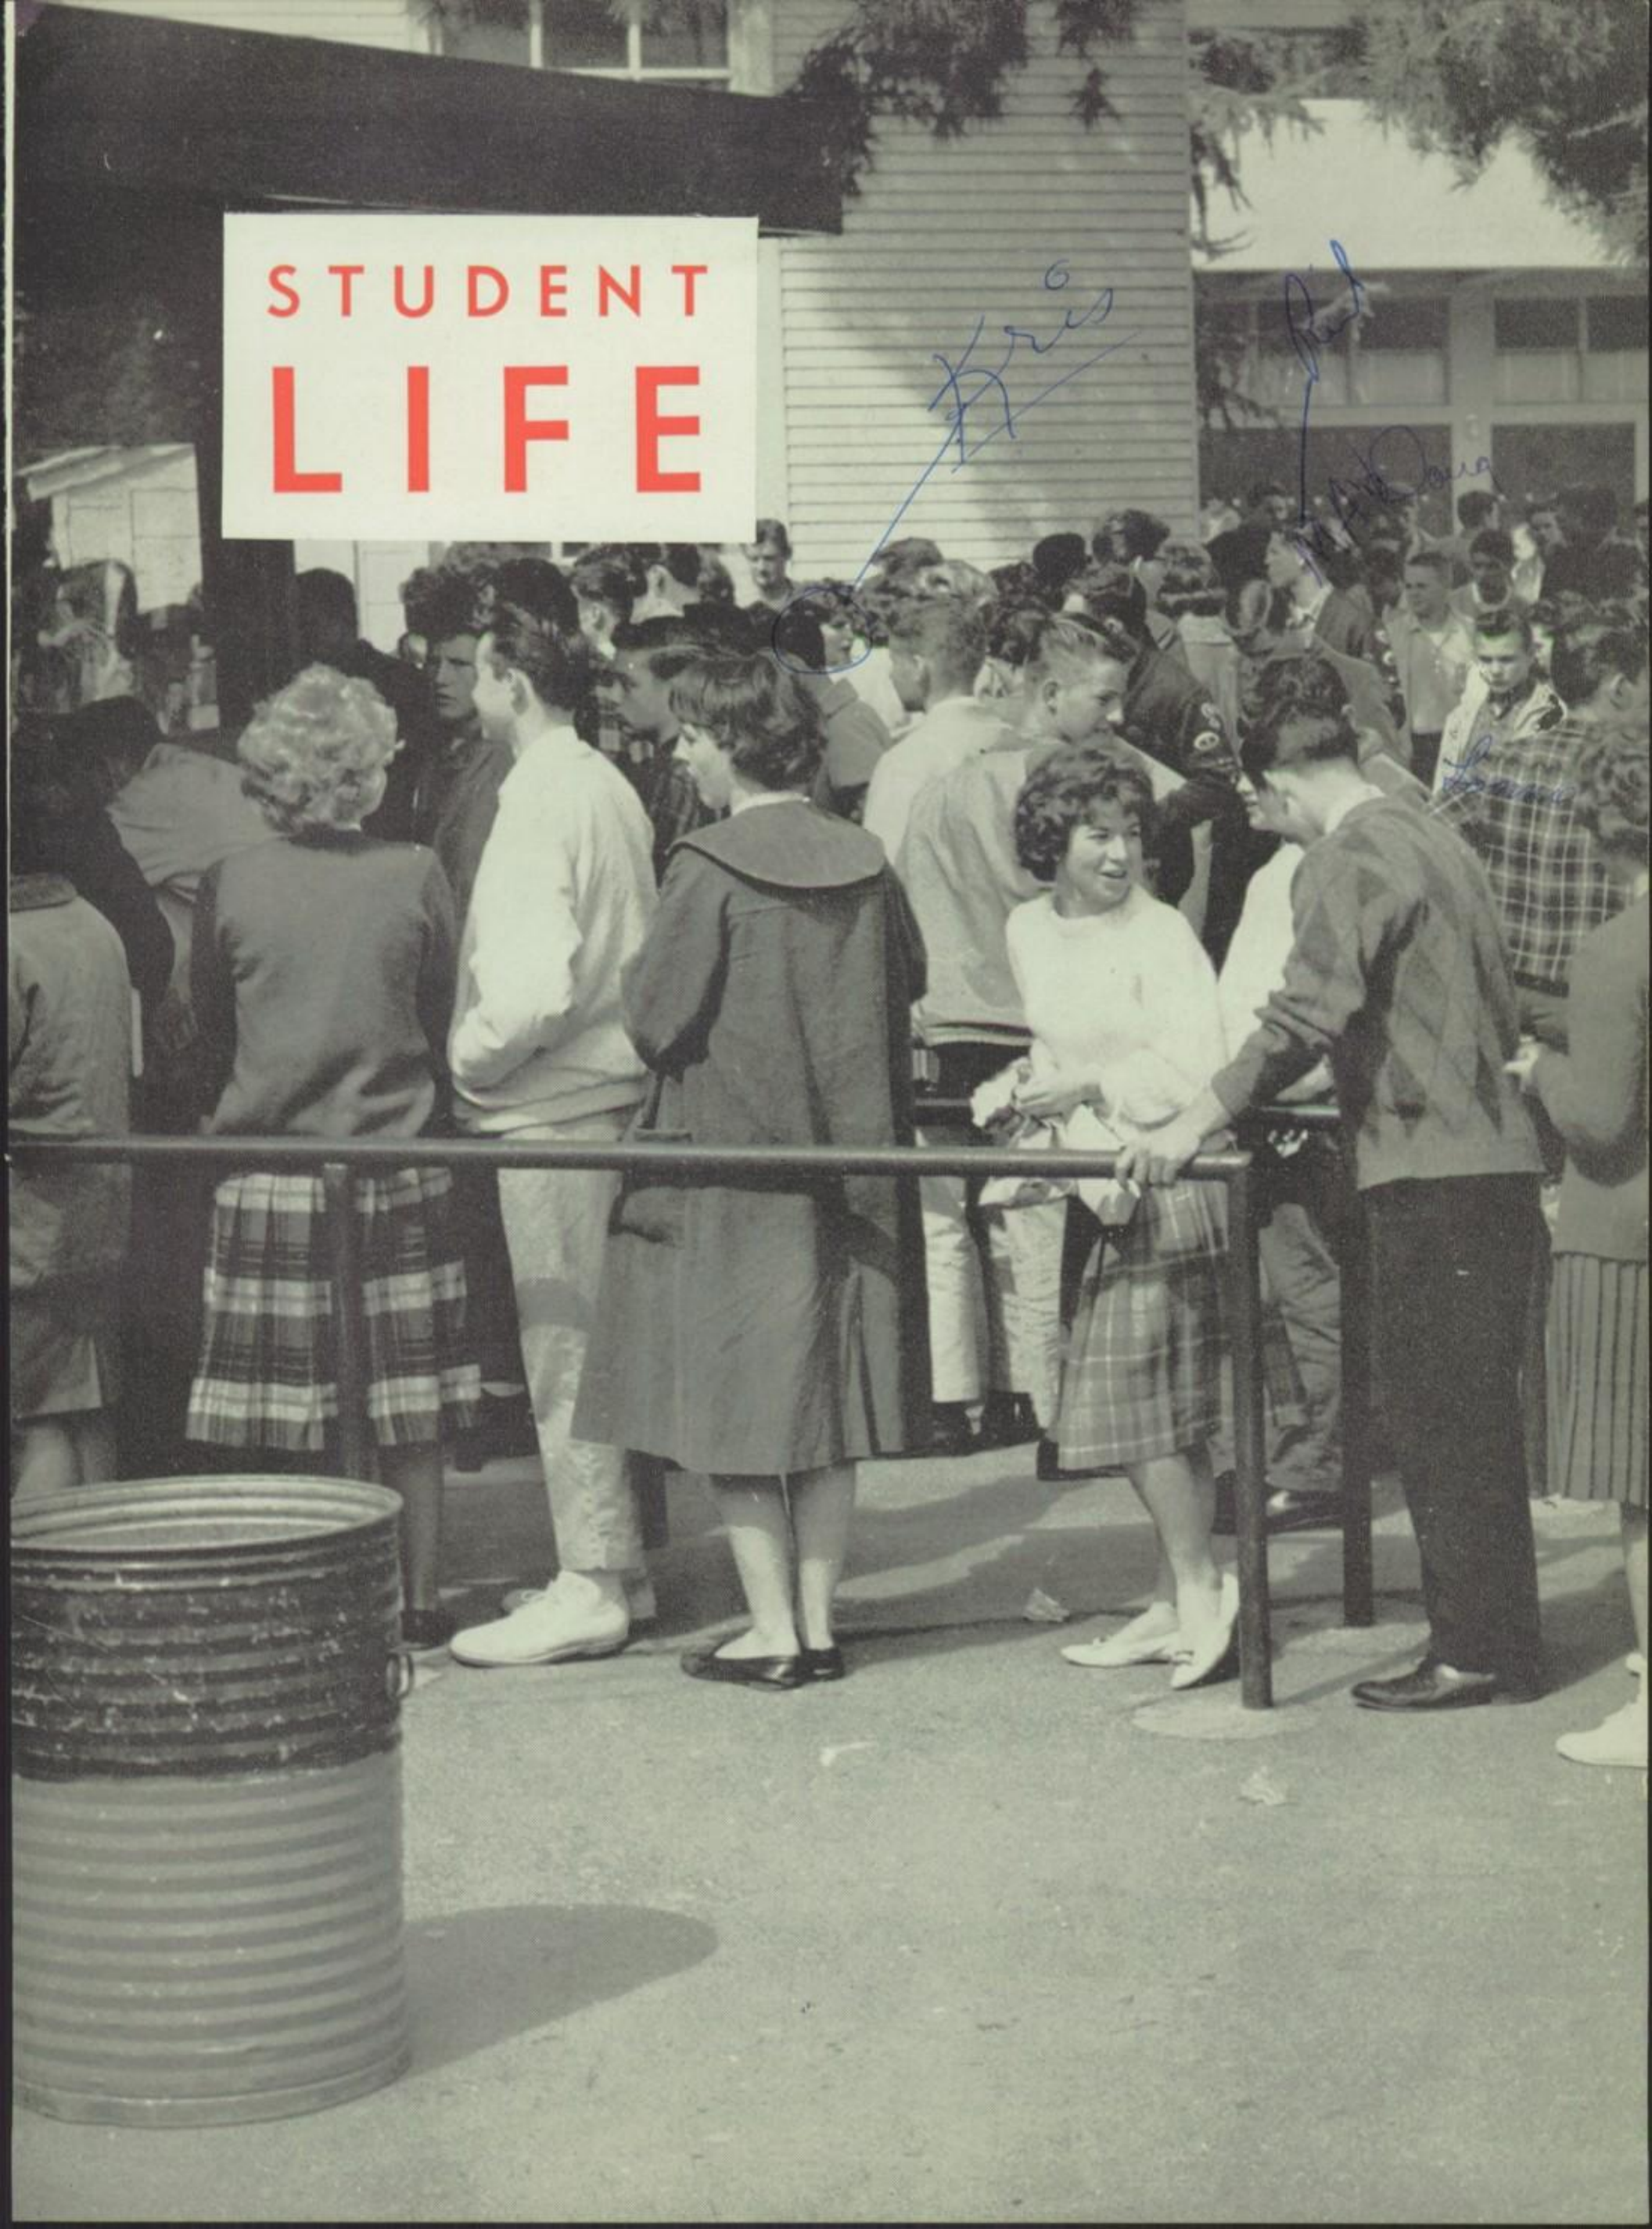
STUDENT LIFE



Directing the Student Council activities is the council's executive board, consisting of Fred Crummett, Student Body Vice-President; Jim Leonard, Chief Justice; Dave Jones, Student Body President; and Margaret Lamb, Student Body Secretary.

Student Council

This year's Student Council took on many important tasks and completed them with a feeling of great satisfaction. The council put the finishing touches on the Code of Ethics and the closed-circuit television sets.

They followed this with the annual Magazine Sale. With the money made from this sale, the Student Council was able to aid the Mt. Diablo Red Devil Marching Band to fly to Seattle, Washington, to be the Band of the Day on April 30 at Century '21. The Student Council, with the aid of JSA, introduced to the Student Body a new election system based on the one which adults use.

I would like to thank all of those who took part in making this a memorable year.

Sincerely,

SOCIAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

"Aloha" was the greeting at the Get-Acquainted Dance early in the school year. Dance Committee members who sponsored this dance, made hundreds of leis and a few of these were displayed by Irene Omania when she danced the hula.

Added to the roster of traditional dances was the Homecoming Dance held during October. Ghosts and goblins guarded the Homecoming Queen, Sandi Rusconi, as she completed her reign. Not only was the Committee in charge of the dance, but also the half-time Homecoming program.

The remaining dances of the year were sponsored by different classes and clubs. These dances were the Sophomore Formal, Block D, Sock Hop, Freshman Dance, and the special Junior Prom. Dance Committee members assisted the class or club to prepare for their dance.

Mrs. Virginia Brunk, adviser, helped Diane Tadlock channel the committee members' activities effectively, and applauded the student body's choice of Diane as Dance Commissioner for 1961-62.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Beginning its year with the annual magazine drive, the 1961-62 House of Representatives became very active under the leadership of Fred Crummett, student body vice-president.

The highlight of the year for the House of Representatives was the talk given by Assemblyman Jerome Waldie on leadership and the qualities and importance of a good leader. The House set up three standing committees: the CASC-DVIC committee, the Foster Child Committee, and a Safety committee. In addition, this year's House worked on the problem of the Senior Lawn and its benches.

The House of Representatives also backed the drive to raise money to send the Mt. Diablo Marching Band to Seattle on April 30, for the opening of the World's Fair.

Rules of Order and crepe paper decorations

The successful Social Affairs Committee never fails to draw a crowd. Picture day is no exception, as the many friends of committee members in this picture can testify.

Student Court members relax between cases after spending a hard fifteen minutes with a difficult case.

STUDENT COURT

Student Court, headed by Chief Justice Jim Leonard, met every Wednesday this year to hear and try cases concerning the disregard of school rules. Strict penalties, enforced by court members and advisers were placed on those students found guilty. This year court was reorganized in order that citations could be processed more efficiently, and so that it could run more smoothly, and uphold the rights of students more capably.

A.F.S. COMMITTEE

The American Field Service Committee aids in the developing of friendships between all the peoples of the world. To create such friendships, the A.F.S. sponsors a foreign exchange student, who is placed in the home of a Diablo student. Some of the activities which the committee has sponsored, under their adviser, Mr. Robert Macomber, were the "Mile of Pennies" drive, the Foreign Exchange Assembly, and the introduction of the exchange student to the school and community.

These eager looking students help to acquaint our exchange student with Diablo and its traditions.

SAFETY COMMITTEE

If you should happen to see someone checking loose floor mats or looking for matches, don't be alarmed. It's not a private detective, it's just one of Diablo's Trouble Shooters, otherwise known as the Safety Committee.

The Safety Committee is under the direction of Mr. Peter Kramer and Sophomore Representative Cliff Hurley. The purpose of this committee is to find and help correct any danger spots on campus. Although the Safety Committee has done little in the past years, it is rapidly becoming an active committee on campus.

SALES AND FINANCE COMMISSION

Students who devoted their noon hours to selling tickets in the ticket booth were members of the Sales and Finance Commission. Headed by Commissioner Dolores Navarro, they also sold student body and senior activity cards. These students were interested in the techniques of salesmanship and utilized their talents by serving their school.

The Sales and Finance Commission served Diablo by handling student sales.

Between short trips to the printers and gathering the many ads necessary for the survival of a paper, the Newstaff paused long enough in room 51 Ac to put out an edition of the Diablo News about every three weeks.

The paper, which won a three-star citation from the Pacific Slope Scholastic Press last year, making it one of the nine so honored on the West Coast, was edited by Bob Neubert, first semester, and Pete Vasconi, second semester.

Press Clinics were held throughout the year for journalists interested in improving their style. The first one attended by Diablo students was held at Second semester found the Newstaff class increased from a mere fourteen to near capacity due to the invasion of members of the Junior Class.

Caught unaware during one of their more "idle" moments while writing stories, are Jim Bates, Laurie Lane, and Rich "Yul" Jacobson—Extreme worry caused the baldness.

Rummaging through the "IN" basket to find what is still "OUT" on the final deadline for the newspaper are Ken Treece, ads manager; Morris Scharff, sports editor; Leah Rogers, press release manager; and Gary Shelby, assistant sports editor.

Mrs. Lum finds herself swamped with copy, while surrounding journalists grin in ecstasy at the thought of another deadline met.

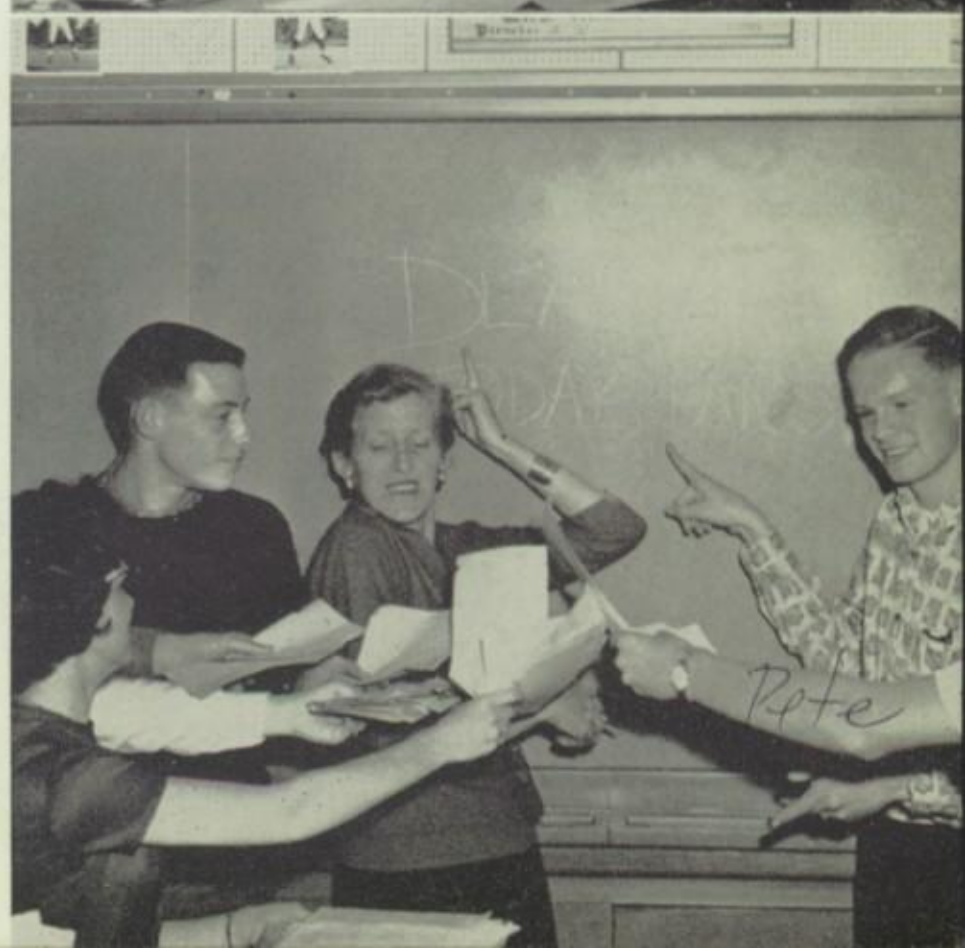
Alhambra High School. Next came the conference at Stanford which was attended by Pete Vasconi, Sue Cockerham and Bob Neubert. Sue, Leah Rogers, Peni Poteet, Cozette Ewing, La Velle Jackson, and Caroline Gee went to the first All-Girls' Press Clinic at the University of California, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi in October.

The big conference of the year was the All Coast Press Clinic held in Seattle, Washington, where author and feature writer Stewart Holbrook was the main speaker. Mrs. Helen Lum, Bob Neubert, Pete Vasconi, Leah Rogers, and Yearbook Editor Sue Cockerham made the profitable trip in which Bob won the journalism scholarship for the state of California. Joan Geiger, a Journalism major from the University of Washington, did a picture story of the group from the moment they arrived and settled in their rooms to the time they departed. The photo story was printed in the Student and Publisher Magazine.

A paper doesn't get published on appearance, so aside from seeking ads for the paper, Diablo News published the annual Student Directory with the aid of Patt Pancoast who was in charge of design and publication, while Ken Treece and Leah Rogers dug up the advertisements. Home football games were never played this year without the presence of Ken delivering programs to various students who volunteered to sell in order to raise money for the paper.

And last, but by far not the least, the staff would never have gotten on its feet without the guidance of Mrs. Helen Lum, adviser, but most of all, a friend of the class.



These are the people who direct the functions of Diablo's clubs. Their Club's Assembly was a highlight of fall activities.

CLUBS COUNCIL

Clubs Council has functioned to full capacity this past year under the guidance of Clubs Commissioner, Fran Shimek. Regular monthly meetings are held to discuss problems and activities of all Diablo's Clubs and a bulletin board is kept in the Academic Building posted with club activities. The Clubs Council contributed their share to Diablo activities this year in the Club's Assembly, Junior Carnival, Club's Dance and Council "Thank You" Dinner for advisers.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CLUB

The Foreign Exchange Club works in conjunction with the American Field Service Committee to supplement the international student-exchange program. This group brings a knowledge of foreign countries and customs to Mt. Diablo students to help them understand the peoples of the world. Laura Rodman serves as president, while Sherry Bowen, Dicki Smith, and Ilene Lauterbach lend their assistance. Mr. Robert Macomber acts as club adviser.

GERMAN CLUB

This is the seventh year of existence for the Mt. Diablo High German Club. The club was founded at the time when German was being reintroduced to American schools after many years absence because of WW II. The German Club has been one of the most active language clubs at Diablo under the sponsorship of Mrs. Caroline Ross. Over the past few years the club has had several speakers, films, and records to further interest in the German language and culture. This year, besides sponsoring the fund-raising cake sales and participating in the Junior Carnival, the German Club continued its traditional end-of-the-year picnic, and viewed slides taken by teachers who had visited Germany.

EDUCATION CLUB

Diablo's Education Club was organized in 1955 under the leadership of Mrs. Eloise Honett, present Dean of Girls. The club was founded to interest high school students in teaching as a career, and to provide activities and experiences appropriate for those who had already decided to become teachers. In line with this aim, the club again this year provided Williams Elementary School with these five carefully selected students to assist teachers for one hour a day: Elaine Bush, president; Karolyn Tubbs, vice-president; Mary King, Claudia Moniz, and Janice Moore.

FRENCH CLUB

The "Bluets et Coquelicots" was founded in 1956, and is presently advised by Mrs. Catherine Messersmith. Under the direction of Craig Hager, president; George Ritter, secretary; Larry Clark, Sgt. at Arms; and Nola Kniffen, treasurer, the French Club has annual cake sales, car washes and pot-luck dinners to raise money. Their funds were spent this year on a trip to San Francisco to visit the L'Academie Francaise and dine at Ripley's restaurant, plus a $10 donation to the band's World Fair fund.

DIABLO MEDICAL CLUB

The Diablo Medical Club began about four years ago with Mrs. Joanne Macomber as adviser. The club was formed for the purpose of providing students with an opportunity to learn about the medical fields, and its activities include volunteer hospital training and visiting hospitals and medical schools. The officers of this group, which have donated over 2,000 hours of their own time at Concord Hospital, are Caroline Gee, president; Christine Darrow, vice-president; Diane Karlsrud, secretary; Mary Flodin, treasurer; Mary Boyle, liaison officer.

J.S.A.

J.S.A., an informal organization, meets twice a month in 12 Portable with Miss Jean Laird serving as adviser. The purpose of this group is to practice political skills, such as debating and parliamentary procedures. The members also count the ballets for student elections. This year the club has attended the State Convention at Sacramento, the Regional Convention at Napa, and has held a League Convention February 17, on campus. At the State Convention, held on November 12 and 13, the members visited the Legislative Chambers and heard a speech by Lieutenant Governor Harold Powers.

C.S.F.

California Scholarship Federation, active on the Diablo campus for over twelve years, recognizes the students with high grade averages. The activities of this group are many and varied. Members take over selling student pictures, they act as guides for campus evening affairs, and they contribute money to needy school projects. Each year they are allowed a sneak day as a just reward for their interest in books. Their advisers are Miss Ruth Galindo and Miss Ethel Brubaker. Their fall officers were Bill Fernandez, president; Phil Wilson, vice-president; Sandy Waters, treasurer; and Judy Bisso, secretary.

JAZZ CLUB

The Jazz Club is an organization for all those students interested in modern music. Jazz is played during noon meetings for the enjoyment of the members and to increase their music appreciation. The group was started in 1954 primarily as a rhythm and blues club. Dues are collected in order to provide funds for a field trip to a top-notch Jazz Club. Mr. Lawrence Campodonico and Jim Sousa work together to bring pleasure to these avid campus music fans.

SPRING C.S.F.

The 52 members of spring C.S.F. got the chance to skip school for one day in May when they went by bus to San Francisco as a special reward for their good grades.

SPANISH CLUB

A club devoted to promoting interest in Spanish Language and Culture has been in existence for many years here at Diablo. It calls itself simply the Spanish Club. This club acts as a language center for all students who take Spanish in their classes.

Students from Spanish speaking countries, as well as people who have visited Spanish speaking countries, are asked to speak at their meetings.

The Spanish Club's main projects this year were the Junior Carnival, where they sold cascarones, a trip to San Francisco and the Spring Banquet.

The officers of the Spanish Club are: Rich Sandoval, president; Gene Foster, vice-president; Carol Gill, secretary; and Sandy Waters, treasurer.

Miss Joyce Harling, of the Foreign Language Department, advises and helps plan the programs for this club.

The term play presented this April was "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough.

The plot revolved around these two girls as they traveled to France by third class passage. Between Cornelia's measles and the girls' bulky safety pockets, the voyage proved one of utter confusion. Then, upon arrival in France, in their flea-bitten hotel room, bed bugs got the best of Cornelia.

The play, directed by Mrs. Pat Metzgar and student director Barbara Hamilton, provided play goers with a laughter-filled evening.

The inevitable safety pockets stay with the girls right up until the last scene.

Emily, played by Sharon Williams, distracts the ship official, as Dick and Leo comfort Cornelia.

Jack —

I've just gotten to know you this year, and all I can say is, I wish I'd have known you before. Jack, you are a very intelligent and sensitive person. I'm sure that whatever you attempt to do will be successful.

Mrs. Skinner is completely charmed by the suave Monsieur de la Croix.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

I kind of wish you had tried out for some of the plays this school has put on — I kind of think you'd probably have gotten some good parts.

Sincerely — Sharon Williams

The full Mt. Diablo orchestra, composed of twenty-two members, meets every fifth period under the baton of Mr. William Marracino.

This year's orchestra performed at the annual mass area Orchestra Festival in the Diablo Gym on March 14. It competed in the California Music Educators Association Contest at Pleasant Hill, on May 5, and played for the student body during the school assembly, May 14.

The original school orchestra was formed as soon as enough interested students and instruments were collected in the early days of the school. The orchestra was the musical group of Mt. Diablo until about 1930 when the bands came into their own. However, most schools have now re-formed their orchestras, and they are becoming popular again.

These ambitious people are responsible for promoting the school spirit that won Mt. Diablo High School the much vaunted Sportsmanship Trophy.

We brought spirit and the sportsmanship

Twelve years ago Hart Fairclough, Varsity Football coach, took over the management of the Rally Committee. Coach Fairclough set up the organization and formed subcommittees which are still in existence.

He is the person who brought the song leaders and the Rally Band into the league district to perform at the Football and Basketball games. Yes, Diablo was the first school in the district to have song leaders and a Rally Band. We were also the first school to have card stunts at our Football games, thanks to Coach Fairclough. Stanford University donated all the cards to us in 1952, and they are still being used to this date.

JACK SMULLEN
Rally Adviser

The Rally Band takes a break between assemblies and switches from the spirited "Fight" Songs to the cool, yet swinging Tiger Rag.

Nine years ago Mr. Jack Smullen took over the Rally Committee. He has contributed endless time, enthusiasm and effort to make Rally Committee one of the most popular and outstanding groups on the Devil campus. Over one hundred students worked under his supervision this year.

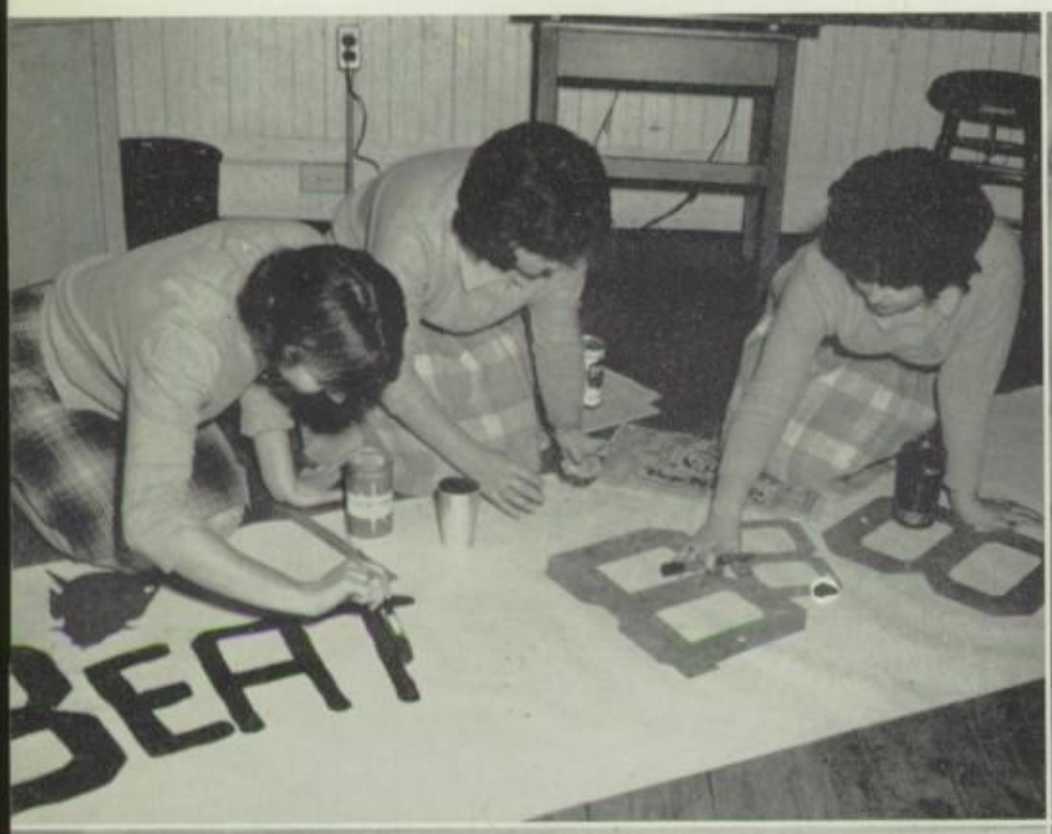
These five little notes may not always be in tune.



Our Devils do their best, no matter who they are leading.

The Song Leaders from Diablo and College Park do a little Twist for their onlooking fans.

The Red Devils look on as the Yell Leaders and Song Leaders lead the rooters for the last time in singing the beloved Alma Mater. A few tears were shed especially by the Seniors.

Pleasant Hill may have shot this basket but thanks to Peni Poteet's half court bucket, Mt. Diablo won the game.

The Rally members pause to quiet the crowd for the Alma Mater.

Posters for the Mid-Valley Classic go up with the aid of Rally Committee members.

This really isn't a Devil Totem Pole, it's just a few ambitious students hanging a sign to BEAT the RAMS!

put the injury riddled football team together again

"To successfully defend a thrice-won football title in our league is in itself a monumental task. This year's squad found itself in this precarious position. Although they strove valiantly to attain this goal, many injuries to key players at midseason thwarted any hopes of repeating as D.V.A.L. champions," stated coach Hart Fairclough.

Due to these injuries to several first-string players Diablo was facing almost insurmountable odds when it came up against a strong Pittsburg and one of Pleasant Hill's finest teams. With their ranks worn thin and their backs to the wall, this Diablo team gave its all and enjoyed its finest hour in a losing cause to Pittsburg.

Even though this season wasn't as successful as past seasons, Diablo individuals were awarded many honors. Ron Boyle and Rich Clough were all-league selections, with Clough's selection being unanimous. Ed Zubey and Dave Jones were selected on the second team, while Dwain Adams and Mike Jones made honorable mention. At times the backfield literally flew with all those J's in the backfield. The J's referred to are Dennis Jones, Dave Jones, Mike Jones, and Gary Johnson.

Through the work of these individuals and others, the Diablo track team of 1962 has turned out some fine performances. The last being a three-point victory on April 4, over neighboring rival, Clayton Valley.

The squad is led by coach John Nicholas and his assistant, Coach Bud Bohne. Coach Nicholas hopes that some of his outstanding senior runners will make the West Coast Relays at Fresno this year.

VARSITY BASEBALL
-DVAL Champions-

The Red Devil baseball team of 1962 promises to be an interesting one. Returning from last year's championship team are Dwain Adams, an All-League selection who batted .394, and Bob Armstrong, pitcher and first baseman.

Returning lettermen also include Gary Johnson, second string All-League, Rick Saxton, second base, Morris Scharff, outfield, and Mike Jones, third and first base.

The Red Devils have a fine basis on which to build around and are hoping to be right up in the thick of the pennant race.

Some new faces to bolster the team this year are Mike Schomaker, catcher, who batted .450 for the JV championship team and Dudley Gann, pitcher from the JV's.

As of April first, the horsehiders were showing great promise with six straight preseason victories over Encinal, El Cerrito, Berkeley, Alhambra, St. Mary's, and Las Lomas, and league victories over Pacifica and Pittsburg.

Returning to this year's Red Devil squad are Dwain Adams, Mike Jones, Bob Armstrong, Gary Johnson, Morris Scharff, Rick Saxton.

As of April 1st, the team had played only two games breaking even with a 1-1 record. Playing consistent baseball for the Little Devils in these early games have been Ken DeMartini, shortstop, Mickey McLaughlin, first base, Tom Joseph, pitcher, Leland Johnson, catcher, Mike Hitchcock, outfield, and George Demeny, third base.

When such a large number of girls can assemble and call themselves GAA members, the athletic program planned for them this year must have been stimulating.

The Beauty and Strength Department

Teamwork, cooperation, sportsmanship, and the ability to work well with others are important qualities that every high school student should possess. The main purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to promote good sportsmanship and to give all the girls at MDHS an opportunity to become interested, active, and to enjoy all sports.

Diablo High's GAA meets every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. As a member of this group you have the wide variety of such sports as hockey, swimming, volleyball, badminton, tennis, basketball, bowling, square dancing, splatterball, gymnastics, modern dance, charm and poise, roller skating, ice skating, and softball.

In September they had the annual Welcome and initiation of new and old members. One of the main activities is selling soft drinks in the concession stands at the football games. In October, MDHS was well represented at the sportsday Clayton Valley held on the Eagle campus. Among the San Francisco playday, a hockey sportsday, the Leadership Conference, the All County playday, Pleasant Hill Tennis Sportsday, and the gymnastics exhibition, they have had two Mother-Daughter nights, and the election for next year's cabinet; then the traditional awards banquet was held in May. Those girls who earned sports and service points received their awards. In addition two other awards are the Wighit Award and the Outstanding Girl in GAA.

The advisers of GAA are Miss Donna Dee Britton and Mrs. Olive Barnes. Under their leadership, all girls enjoy fun and fellowship throughout the entire year.

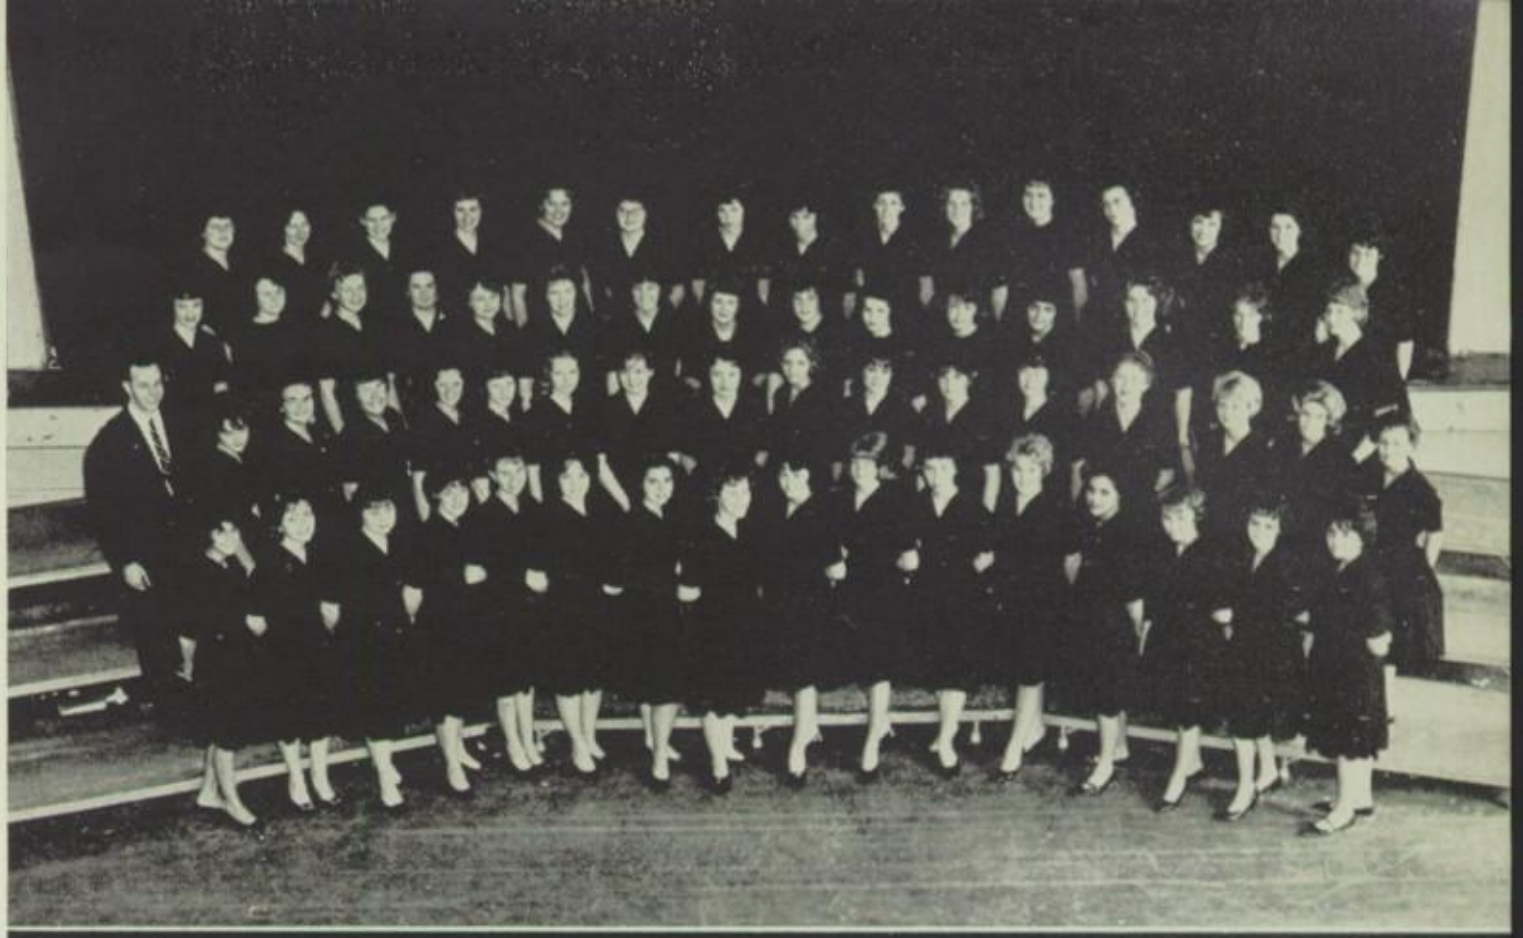
The GAA cabinet is the nucleus of the club. The organization plans and directs such activities as basketball, volleyball, badminton, and hockey. FRONT ROW: Janet Tonneson, Candy Jones, Judy Tomilson, Sue Turnquist, Leslie Krumland. BACK ROW: Karolyn Tubbs, Linda Emerick, Mary May, Karlene Schubert, Kathy Caruso.

One of the campus melody-making groups is the Girls' Glee club. Under the direction of Mr. J. Campodonico, they have appeared in assemblies, for Parents club and have taken part in the Regional Festival, here in Concord.



Singing along with the director is the Boys' Glee club. Fifty-five strong, they have increased greatly in the last two years. They have performed in the Christmas pageant and in the Annual Spring Festival.

The Di-Ho's is one of the newest service groups. They serve at sports banquets and other school functions. This year they were honored by a tea at the home of Mrs. E. Honett for their service.

BUSINESS CLUB

This year the Business Club is undergoing reorganization because it hopes to become a member of the national F.B.L.A.'s 2000 chapters throughout the country. According to Mrs. Helen Koll, adviser, the club has been responsible for running the Magazine Drive, has had a booth at the Junior Carnival, and has sent representatives to Northern California Workshop Conventions. The purposes of import to members are to create more interest in and the intelligent choice of business opportunities; to encourage student members to participate in home and community affairs; and to help improve standards for future office workers.

GIRLS' LEAGUE
EXECUTIVE BOARD

Girls' League has been in existence for two years. Most of last year's meetings were concerned with forming an acceptable constitution. The sponsors for the new Girls' League are Mrs. Eloise Honett and Miss Jessie Falconer, and the officers are Diana Lathrop, Girls' Representative; Lois Mattson, vice-president; Lynn Markham, treasurer; Linda Trent, hostess; and Barbara Periera, historian. The big project for this year was the all-girl assembly in February.

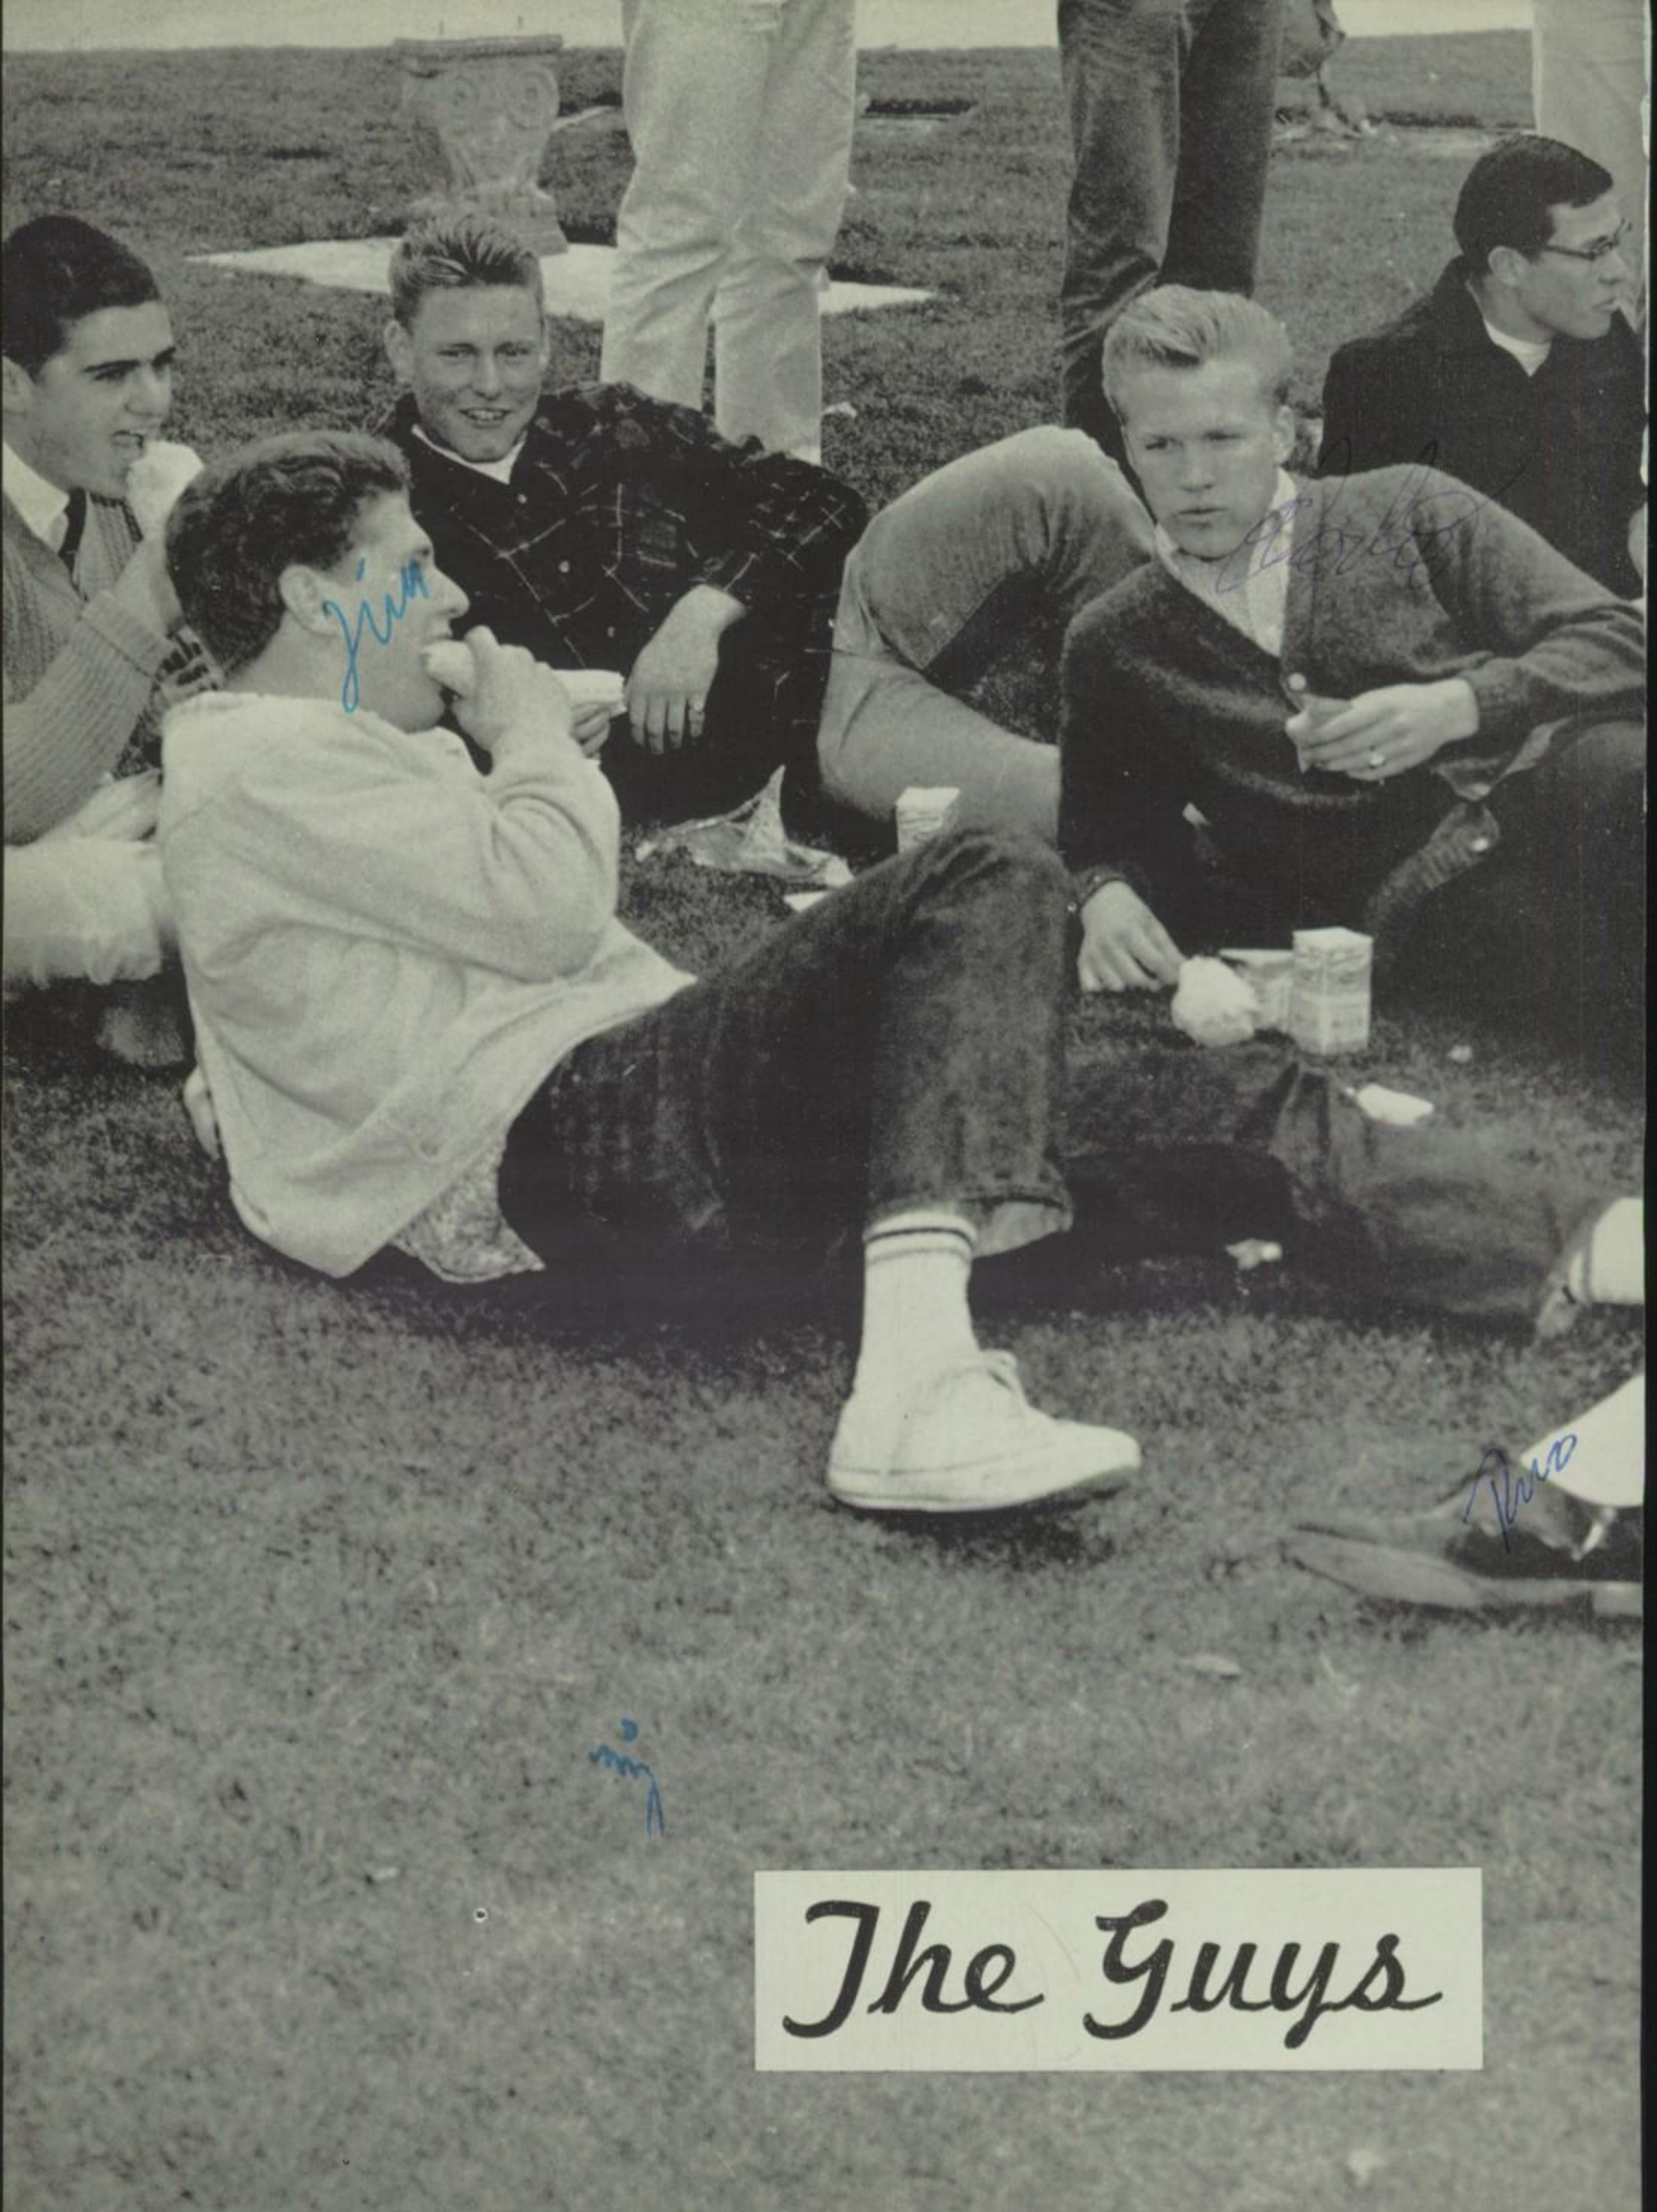
BRUNCH SERVICE

Miss Dorothy Dodge has advised this group since they were a part of the larger Business Club. They became a separate entity in 1958, and now function on their own. Each day the thirty girls on Brunch Service spend almost a half hour preparing and serving food and totaling up money in their individual selling spots. For their service to the school these girls are awarded service pins and cards, are honored at a downtown luncheon, and receive many thank-yous from Diablo students.

What a matter Fweddy . . . You lost? Fred is on his way to "get acquainted" at the year's first dance, "Aloha."

Don Rookaird puts Ginger Royal in her place for mouthing-off when he has the floor at the Block D Dance.

Santa's message to Stephanie Woolf at the Christmas formal was, "Come with me to my igloo and we will make beautiful music together."



The Guys

RALLY BAND

The rally band, more commonly known as the Straw Hatters, are the big backers of the cheerleaders. They play at all rallies, basketball games, assemblies and also outside school functions. The band's leader, Charlie Wall, seventh from the left, was appointed by Mr. Bill Marracino, band leader. When the big marching band cannot make an appointment, the rally band acts as an understudy. The Straw Hatters encouraged school spirit this year by strongly supporting the yell and song leaders at the basketball games.

Some of the noisemakers of Diablo

LUGNUTS

The Lugnuts, supervised by Mr. Anthony Vidak, spent noon and after school hours learning about today's automobiles. Club members played an important part in the annual Safety Check, and the Junior Carnival, and the club boasts one of the largest memberships in its history.

CHESS CLUB

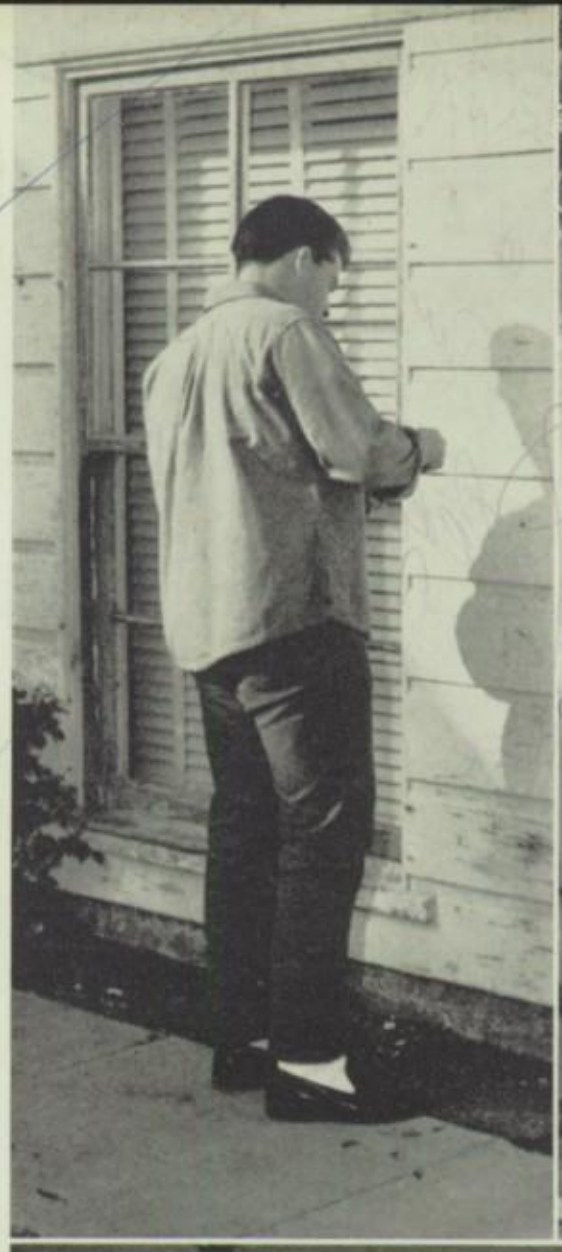
The Chess Club, sponsored by Mr. Robert O'Lincoln, is dedicated to the stimulation of the minds of its members. The club members are ranked according to their skill on a "Chess Ladder." At the daily meetings in 63 Ac at lunch, members may advance on the ladder by challenging and beating their superior players. Here we have a typical noon meeting of the Chess Club with the presence of some highly intellectual students to make things very interesting.

The camera catches a few of the Zoo's animals as they eagerly devour their lunches to get ready for the day's gossip and hockey game.

Yes, even the Seniors have to be told where to go sometimes. Nellie Sue and Gary line up another group shot on picture day.

Roger Clark pulled 1,000 staples out of the administration wall . . . We forget who put the staples in the wall.

THE LINEUP forms on the Administration Building stairs every day at noon.



Mike Johnson and Jeanne Ward wowed students and faculty alike with their rendition of the "Twist."

Meanwhile, back in the can . . .

BLOCK D

Block D began under the direction of Mr. Pete Kramer, in the early 1920's. At this time it was mainly a service club, but it later extended its boundaries of interest under the direction of Mr. Les Williams, athletic director. Block D members keep order at football games and assemblies, and supervise the wearing of award sweaters as well as taking part in other school activities. The advisers this year are Mr. Ernie Cecaci and Mr. Jim Swan, and the officers are: Rich Clough, president; Buzz Walker, vice-president; Charlie Binderup and Mike Slattery, sergeants at arms; and Jim Quincy, secretary-treasurer.

The big moment is at hand . . . The announcement of the 1962 Block D Queen at the annual Block D Dance. The candidates wait expectantly.

A halo of hearts hovers over Bobbie Christie's head as she is crowned by Block D president, Rich Clough.

Senior President's Message

The year is over and we, members of the Senior Class, are left with nothing more than beautiful memories. This year has rushed by in the blink of an eye: the Senior Ball, "Fantasia," more startling than ever; the Senior Banquet, as magnificent as always; Senior Career Day, Senior Play, and the Senior Picnic, (oh that poison oak).

We wish to extend our deepest thanks to the teachers and counselors who have kept us working during the past four years, even though we didn't seem to appreciate it at the time.

I hope that each of you has as much fun, does as much work, and gets as much out of high school as we, the Class of "62" has.

May you always dream of rainbows.

"Nikki" Martin captures

To the Students of Mt. Diablo High School:

If you ask me, "How do you like America?", I first answer, "I like Diablo." Why? Because Diablo is the biggest part of my experience in the U.S.—spending most of my time, and pleasant time, in your spread-out campus.

For a French student to live like an American one, is new and challenging. Here I feel really like a citizen in a small and well-organized town. Yes, a town with a council, a house of representatives, a newspaper, a treasury, a town with customs—green and red colors, shouts of yell leaders—a very dynamic town.

When I came to this town, the many cheerful "hello Nik's" make me feel good. I find "the Diablo Citizen" very independent yet engaged in the workings of the school society.

For me, having the right to live in a society like Diablo, adopted for myself, for my tastes, and wants, is a gift, yes, a marvelous gift because in France, school is only a place where I take my academic subjects.

Modern Dance was a new experience for Nik, and many times she felt the effect of it.

Rick Saxton interviews French exchange student, Annik Martin, as Mary listens.

hearts of Diablo students

Whether in France or in America, Nik still finds herself jumping puddles.

I have to complete my life in other places but at Diablo all is here — dances, sport matches, even candies and delicious cakes during the sales. In my French school, many kids are shy but here it is nearly impossible to look shy. Why? because there are so many clubs or committees that you can always be a part of. You can even become president or vice-president or secretary of your club. Yes, Diablo actually has given to me a sense of responsibility and importance.

Freedom is on the campus, by the large space of green lawns we have, and the open discussions we can have in the classes. In France, of course, I discuss but not so much, because teachers have programs to teach, and long discussions take too much from planned periods.

Yes, I can say: "Before living at Diablo I did not know the society which I belong to— the teen-age world."

How can I thank you for adopting me for this school year? Well, I am too dumb, and write this common form but sincerely,

Annik

Thornton Wilder would roll over in his mossy grave if he knew the riot his play "The Matchmaker" caused when presented by the Class of 1962.

The Broadway hit played to packed houses for two nights under the direction of Mrs. Pat Metzgar and student director Laurie Eberhardt. Sixteen seniors comprised the cast which included Mike Hays as the leading man playing a crotchety Mr. Vandergelder. Sharon Williams literally sparkled and stunned the audience as Mrs. Dolly Levi, the leading lady and "Matchmaker." Excellent in supporting roles were Don Rookaird as Malachi Stack, Patt Pancoast as Minnie Fay, and Ed Zubey as the bottle-swinging, whip-cracking cabman.

Intermission came with all the glee of exuberant youth singing their hearts out as the barbershop quartet. The group fittingly sang "London Bridge Is Falling Down" as a stagehand inadvertently put his foot through the false ceiling concealing the rafters.

Preceding the final act was a group of Moulin Rouge-type cancan girls. On opening night one of the girls provided the audience with laughter by an un-

Despite the little pitfalls, delighting old and young alike, the play netted the Senior Class a tidy profit.

CAREER DAY '62

Jack Rees, the Associate Executive Secretary of the California Teachers Association, was the main speaker at the Career Day activities held on March 16.

The annual event, under the direction of Mr. Ron Loos and student co-chairmen Ron Boyle and Mary Flodin, was begun with an opening address by Mr. Rees and Dr. Ferd Diehl. A luncheon, prepared by the Parents' Club, was held for section chairmen and speakers, and this was followed by two 50-minute sessions. During the sessions, the 414 seniors attended lectures on almost any of the major professional fields of their choice.

SENIOR PICNIC

The annual Senior Class Picnic was held this year on Mt. Diablo's Turtle Rock Ranch May 9.

The Class of '62 enjoyed a day of fun, frolic, games, and relaxation supervised by select members of the faculty. Cochairmen for the blast were Judy Skinner and Pete Vasconi, while Mr. Ernie Cecaci directed the activities. The festivities commenced at 7:30 a.m. when the typical senior games of hopscotch and jump rope began. They were followed by fun and games of the student's own invention, which lasted on through the morning and afternoon until 6:00 p.m., when the buses came to pick up the exhausted Seniors.

These seniors were ready to rip as they clowned before leaving for the annual Senior Class Picnic.

It started out to be a wheelbarrow race, but things seem to have gotten turned around.

JUNIOR CLASS

Advisers, Mrs. Charline Decker and Mr. Joseph Rukavina and class officers Richard Yamanaka, president; Rosemary Hibel, vice-president; Judi Tierney, secretary; and Carol Longshore, representative; helped to unify the class with their capable leadership.

First came the Junior Carnival, headed by Carol Longshore, which proved to be great fun for all. Next came the Fashion Show on March 7, supervised by Rosemary Hibel. The Junior Prom, chairmanned by Judi Tierney, wound up the events of a very busy Junior year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year the Class of 1964 really stepped out confidently and showed what they could do to put themselves in the campus spotlight.

The Sophomore schedule was a busy one. Among the activities the class sponsored were the Christmas Formal themed "Babes in Toyland," a Junior Carnival cookie and cupcake booth—the kind you eat—and in November, they held a carwash which raised $64.42 to be used for Sophomore Formal expenses.

The unity of the class and the able assistance from their officers: President, Kim Wilson; Vice-President, Sharon Crummett; Secretary, Sue Elias; Representative, Cliff Hurley; and their advisers, Mr. Harris Foster, Miss Barbara Carlson, and Miss Jane Murbach, helped to promote the success of their year's projects.

Kim Wilson

Elected to lead the class are Sue Elias, secretary; Cliff Hurley, representative; Kim Wilson, president; and Sharon Crummett, vice-president.

The Sophomore Cabinet consists of representatives from registry classes who plan and carry out all sophomore activities.

The Sophomore Service group helps its school by keeping order in the brunch and lunch lines.

The boys were out of the picture this year as far as holding freshman offices. Officers are Wendy Marshall, secretary; Liz Shockey, vice-president; Judy Rusconi, president; and the Representative for the freshman class is Barbara Longshore.

FRESHMAN CLASS

A cake sale in January, which netted the class $12.62 was the first project on the Freshman Class agenda. The money from this helped to pick up the tab for their semiformal dance, March 9, where King Robin Allen and Queen Wendy Marshall were crowned. The annual cleanup day, April 12, gave the Freshmen a better look at the campus while cleaning it.

A class unified in activities and interests, one with top-notch leaders and advisers was the Class of 1965. Under the guidance of Mrs. Marion Hilliard, Mrs. Margaret Atkinson, and Mr. Fury Dalla, advisers; and the class officers, Judy Rusconi, president; Liz Shockey, vice-president; Wendy Marshall, secretary; and Barbara Longshore, representative; the Freshmen have had a good year.

FRESHMAN CABINET

Sixteen freshmen were able to see government in action and help plan class activities through the Freshman Cabinet. They were selected by members of their registry classes.

FRESHMAN SERVICE

Picking up debris left by other students was a major job for the Freshman Service. These students contribute a great deal toward keeping the campus clean after lunch and brunch.

Diablo 1962

Mrs. Helen Lum
Yearbook Adviser

Sue Cockerham
Editor, Diablo 1962

Another yearbook hits the press, and another editor bites the dust.

After the last bit of copy and that inevitable last picture has finally been sent off to the printer, the torn, ink-smeared dummy that looked so clean and fresh in September, can be closed for the last time.

Looking back over the past year, we see confusion, hectic picture days and sometimes just plain panic, but we see a lot of fun too, and a lot of satisfiction. The satisfaction is that that comes from doing something on our own, although without the infinite patience of Mrs. Helen Lum, our friend and adviser, we realize that we would probably still be in the midst of that first panic.

The 1962 yearbook is completed, but September starts another year and another yearbook.

Louisa Mae Alcott said, "It's a good book, it seems to me . . . that's opened with expectations and closed with profit."

We hope that you found this such a book.

The Editor and Staff of the DIABLO 1962

Junior members of the Yearbook Staff take time off from their various activities to work.

By the end of the year, some of these seniors may wish they had never heard of Yearbook Staff. Clipboards, copy, captions and pictures are a lot of fun, but also a lot of hard work.

The normally easy going class really starts to hum just before a deadline, and the typewriters really get a good workout.

Togetherness is the key to a successful yearbook class.

Senior pictures come but once a year, and it is a hectic experience never to be forgotten by any of the staff members who work on scheduling or registering.

Custodians Art Young and John Paulos take a moment from their duties to pose for the annual picture. The latter contributed a dollar for every band member to the World's Fair fund.

Enchanting Nellie Sue charms Senior men lunching at the Dog House.

Dear Jack,

I hope I can find enough to say to fill the whole page. I can think of lots of things but I don't think a lot of them should be in a book like this where anyone and everyone can read them.

I know you will be a great success at Cal. next year with all your brains, powerful drive, and winning personality. It will be a lot of work but I'm sure you can do it.

Yes, there are a lot of parties and doings at Cal. and I hope, as you, that I will be able to attend some of them with you. It would be a great honor besides being a real entertainment enjoyable

Only got one minute so I've just got time to say good luck and be good.

Always,
Craig Dusstable Mayo (esq.)

Jack,
Its been lots of fun in Physics and Functions and English. Loads of luck in the future and I hope you go 400 mph.
